AVIATION CAMP HELPS FUEL KIDS LOVE OF AVIATION

Lawrence Parks and Recreation Department along with the Lawrence Municipal Airport Aviation Advisory Board, the University of Kansas Aerospace Engineering Department, and the Kansas Commission on Aerospace Education (KCAE) recently held the Kansas Aviation Youth Camp.

Students rotated through four teaching modules during the camp. A licensed pilot led the teaching and activities for each module. One module focused on aviation weather and was taught by Matt Elwell, meteorologist for 6News in Lawrence. Plans are for additional camps in the future. The Kansas Recreation and Parks Association may also look at getting involved helping to provide the camp in other communities.
