

MONUMENTS GET WASHED, STRAIGHTENED

Several hundred grave markers at Oak Hill Cemetery dating back to the civil war era have received a cleaning. More than 300 stones in cemetery sections 2, 3 and 7 have already received the washing.

Pictures show before the power wash (left) and after the wash (right).

More than 200 stones in sections 2, 3 and 4 were straightened. About 75 stones in section 4 were lowered to be flush with the ground.

Picture shows 8 crooked stones above the ground (left) and the how the grounds looked after the markers were straightened (right).
