

HALLOWEEN PAINT-IN RUNNING STRONG AT 40

The store fronts in Downtown Lawrence are once again “spooky” for the upcoming holiday because of participants in Lawrence Parks and Recreation and the Breakfast Optimist’s long-running program, the Halloween Paint-In.

The Halloween Paint-In celebrated its 40th year and provided 53 participants an opportunity to showcase their artistic abilities through their paintings of the store front windows. This year, we invited back painters from previous years to participate.

Each participant received a free pumpkin, which was provided by Earl May and a Halloween Paint-In t-shirt.
