

BIRDS A HIT AT BLACK-FOOTED FERRET EVENT

Lawrence Parks and Recreation Department's Prairie Park Nature Center took part in the 30th Anniversary of the Rediscovery of the Black-Footed Ferret Event at the Stenberg Museum, Hays, Kan.

The nature center had static displays, as well as some of its birds of prey on hand for short programs and to be showcased. The event went from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Lakota, the golden eagle, was especially good natured and perched on his stand for nearly 10 hours of the event.

There were more than 1400 people who attend the event.
