Subject: Glare Analysis

To whom it may concern:

Gold Series will make no difference from Pro Series at the distance you are referring to. At a distance this far there isn't actually "glare" that affects vision it is simply a light in the distance you notice. This could be the same as a street lamp you see a mile down the road while driving. It does not affect your vision in any way. The Gold Series will only make a difference in spill trespass or glare compared to the Pro Series at a distance of 500' or less. In my opinion I see no need to change any of these fixtures to Gold Series. The home is simply too far away to justify a change.
