Meet our new Sustainability Director, Kathy Richardson

The City of Lawrence is pleased to welcome Kathy Richardson as our new Sustainability Director. Kathy moved to Lawrence while attending the University of Kansas as an international student from Costa Rica. She graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in biology with a focus in biodiversity, ecology and evolutionary biology.

She began working for the City of Lawrence shortly after graduating from KU, and has now been with the organization for 20 years.

Her previous years at the City were spent in the Solid Waste Division, first as the Waste Reduction & Recycling Specialist, then the Waste Reduction & Recycling Operations Supervisor, and finally as the Solid Waste Manager. As Solid Waste Manager, she oversaw the collection services for trash, recycling and yard waste as well as operations of the Compost Facility and Household Hazardous Waste Facility.

Kathy is a Leadership Lawrence graduate (2014) and a Certified Public Manager, courtesy of the University of Kansas (2021).

City Manager Craig Owens announced in August 2022 that Kathy would be the City’s next Sustainability Director. In that role she is the champion of the City’s Environmental Sustainability commitment in the Strategic Plan. She also serves as staff liaison for the Sustainability Advisory Board.

The City of Lawrence has once again partnered with ETC Institute, a leading market research and survey company, for our 2022 Community Satisfaction Survey. This survey is meant to assess resident satisfaction with the quality of City programs and services.

Many of the survey questions directly align with progress indicators on the City’s strategic plan. The progress indicators track ongoing work toward the five outcomes identified in the strategic plan: Unmistakable Identity; Strong, Welcoming Neighborhoods; Safe and Secure; Prosperity and Economic Security; and Connected City.

The 2022 survey is the fifth such survey administered by the City of Lawrence, with similar surveys completed in 2007, 2011, 2015 and 2019.

ETC Institute mailed surveys to randomly selected households throughout Lawrence earlier this year. In total, the City received 857 survey responses. We would like to thank everyone who took the time to complete the survey after receiving an invitation to participate.
