Big Brothers Big Sisters

Think of the possibilities.
What will you start?

start something

Update from the President

Your support started something great in 2011! We ranked as the 2nd largest one-to-one mentoring organization in the United States and hosted the largest Bowl For Kids' Sake campaign in the nation! Thank you to our generous donors and caring volunteers. You did this.

We also started a new branding campaign—Start Something—which allowed us to share successful match stories and motivate more people to support Big Brothers Big Sisters. We shared three moving stories of men who had a Big Brother when they were children and now as adults are changing the future of Kansas every day.

As we navigate this tough economy, your support, leadership, resources and relentless commitment have helped us endure and build toward a thriving future. Thank you.

Every day we Start Something—whether it's a case manager in Dodge City helping a Little's family through a difficult situation, a community advisory board member in Hutchinson recruiting at a company to draw more male mentors into our mission, or a donor whose gift changes the lives of hundreds of children with just one contribution.

However, there are still thousands of children across our state who need a mentor so they too can have a success story. Thank you for all you did in 2011 and plan to do today to help us thrive and Start Something for our kids!

Dan Soliday
President and CEO
Kansas Big Brothers Big Sisters, Inc.

You Started Something!

VISION: all children achieve success in life.

MISSION: provide children facing adversity with strong and enduring, professionally supported one-to-one relationships that change their lives for the better, forever.

A recent study by Harris Interactive shows that adults who were mentored as children through BBBS are:

75%
more likely to have received a four-year college degree.

39%
more likely to have current household incomes of $75,000 or higher.

72%
extremely satisfied with personal relationships

In addition, over 50% of Littles showed improved school performance, positive attitudes about school, improved relationships at home and greater self-confidence.

Marcus & Rick

Life-Changing Experience

When Rick and his wife Laura met Little Brother Marcus years ago they knew he was something special. "We knew from day one he had great characteristics to contribute to society. Marcus was inquisitive, smart, athletic and we wanted to help him make the most of his skills and abilities," said Big Brother Rick.

Little Brother Marcus has grown up and still stays in close contact with his mentor. Marcus currently plays football at Kansas State University and is following in Rick's footsteps by majoring in engineering.

"The older I get, the more I appreciate what Rick did for me," said Marcus. "Taking time out of his busy schedule every week to mentor me shows how special of a person he is. He set the example for the kind of life I want to live," said Marcus.

Both agree Big Brothers Big Sisters was a life-changing experience. "It was ten times more rewarding than I could have imagined," said Rick.
