experienced lives of abuse and/or neglect.

The ultimate goal of resource care is to resolve family conflicts or disruptions and return the child to his or her natural family. If reintegration with the natural family proves impossible, children are often placed for adoption or prepared for adulthood through independent living. Through the entire process, the resource parent works closely with the child's natural family and child welfare professionals to ensure that the child has a chance to blossom as a healthy, well-adjusted member of the community.

Resource families provide an alternate home like setting for children who are not able to safely live with their parents. Resource parents undergo training and state licensure to ensure that they are knowledgeable about the special challenges children who are placed with them might face, and to provide them with skills to work with the child, the child's family, the social worker or case manager, and the legal system. TFI Family Services, Inc. provides sponsorship for state licensed resource families, and provides supportive services to assist them with any problems or challenges that might occur during the placement of a child in a home.

During this period there were 642 resource homes, with a daily average of 890 children in the home that were sponsored by TFI Family Services, Inc.
