Setting Priorities

City currently working to develop budget & funding for future years

The City Commission is in the process of discussing and shaping the city’s 2018 budget. Budgets reinforce the city’s priorities and provide a way to organize and plan how and when city funds are used. Public input and engagement in this process is crucial. The city uses both online and in-person opportunities for residents to give feedback on city programs, services and priorities.

Every year, the city works for many months to craft the next year’s budget, which must be adopted and approved by August 25. The city provides a multitude of services for our community including police, fire, EMS, water and sewer utilities, parks and recreation programs and facilities, street maintenance and public works services, solid waste and recycling services, the public library, public transit, planning and zoning administration, code enforcement and general city administration. The city also provides funding which supports many community initiatives including economic development and job creation, arts and cultural programming, tourism, downtown maintenance and parking, mental health, bicycle and pedestrian infrastructure improvements and affordable housing.

The city has several work sessions planned for residents to come and listen as commissioners discuss city priorities.

The budget calendar is online at www.lawrenceks.org/budget/current. The City Commission’s work sessions and meetings about the budget will be streamed live at www.lawrenceks.org/stream and will be archived at www.lawrenceks.org/budget/current.

Question:
What Matters to You?

Connecting to your community has never been easier. You can follow the city on Facebook or Twitter, e-mail us at cityhall@lawrenceks.org or call us at (785) 832-3000.

Since 2015, the city has employed an online engagement system that allows residents to answer questions or submit answers to surveys through a program called Lawrence Listens.

Anyone can subscribe to the forum and get a notification when we release a new question. The feedback received is provided to elected officials and departments as part of the discussion about city policies, programs and services.

Go to www.lawrenceks.org/Lawrence-Listens to sign up and participate. The system can be used anonymously but registering an e-mail address and physical address helps the city analyze data by neighborhood. You can always choose “name not shown” to remain anonymous.

Swimming pools and water parks are great places to be active, have fun and cool off. They’re also places where germs can spread and cause illnesses.

Contrary to popular belief, chlorine and other disinfectants don’t kill germs instantly. It can take anywhere from minutes to days for chlorine to kill them. Swallowing just a little water that contains germs can make you sick.

“We encourage residents to protect themselves and others from illnesses by practicing healthy swimming behaviors,” said Mary Beverly, director of Epidemiology and Environmental Public Health at the Lawrence-Douglas County Health Department.

Here are a few easy and effective steps all swimmers can take to prevent illnesses:

- Stay out of the water if you have diarrhea.
- Stay out of the water if you have an open wound that is not covered with a waterproof bandage.
- Shower before you get in the water. Rinsing off in the shower for just 1 minute removes most of the dirt or anything else on your body.
- Take kids on bathroom breaks, especially toddlers.
- Check diapers and change them in a bathroom or diaper-changing area—not poolside. This keeps germs away from pool.
- Don’t pee or poop in the water.
- Don’t swallow the water.

“Everyone should do their part to keep the water safe for healthy swimming,” Beverly said.
