Anecdotal Documentation of Partnerships, Special Programs or Good Neighboring Stories:

- We welcomed Bert Nash CEO, David Johnson, to our November meeting. He shared early plans for turning the VFW property into a wellness campus.
- Following announcement that Burcham Park was being considered as a potential location for a garden project in the Common Ground program, our president attended the open informational meeting held at City Hall, and also we welcomed Eileen Horn and Boog Highberger to our December meeting to directly inform Pinckney residents on the project.
- Elementary school closures are a hot topic in neighborhoods all over Lawrence. Pinckney residents continued to be interested in hearing updates from the Working Group Committee, and we heard from two members of the Pinckney School group at our January meeting.
